REMARKS

TO CIA LIBRARY

25X1X

1. An airfield was about one km northeast of Lomnice nad Popelkou (O 51/G 44), on both sides of the road to Libstat (O 51/G 44) which was blocked to civilian traffic. The landing field was level and firm. The section of the field west of the road was about 500 meters square and the section east of the road covered an area of about 500 x 1,500 meters.
2. A section of the wooden hangar at the field was occupied by aircraft of the local Aeroclub. It had five gliders, one Storch, and one Piper. The other section housed workshops, a fuel dump, and clubrooms. Two SNB members continually guarded the field. Members of the Aeroclub worked at the field since March 1951. They said that the runway was to be surfaced with concrete. The brick hangars were also to be erected.
3. An SNB plane with red nose and gray fuselage took off from and landed at the field daily. Members of the Aeroclub practiced flying on Saturdays and Sundays. *

* Comment. This is the first information on the airfield. The field seems to be of minor military importance. It will probably be used only by SNB aircraft and civilian planes. For location of airfield, see Annex 1. For layout sketch of field, see Annex 2.
